THE INDIANA LATINO INSTITUTE, INC. INVITES YOU TO AN EDUCATION FAIR “Careers for the Future/Carreras para el Futuro”

INDIANAPOLIS, IN – The Indiana Latino Institute, Inc. (ILI) invites all students, especially Latino high school students, and their parents to an education fair for the 2009-2010 school year coordinated through its education program, “Careers for the Future.” The fair will be on Thursday, December 9, 2010 at George Washington Community School, 2215 W. Washington Street, Indianapolis, IN 46222 (Belmont Ave and Washington St) from 6:30m to 8:30pm enter in the school through door #22 located off Tremont St or door # 2 by the school main entrance. Admission is FREE.

The Indiana Latino institute, Inc has been conducting these fairs for over three years as a part of a coordinated effort to help bridge the gap between high school and access to college supports for Latino students in obtaining post secondary education. ILI’s education fair will offer information on scholarship opportunities, college admissions process, summer 2011 internships, Indiana college representatives and volunteer opportunities.

High school seniors, college freshman, sophomore and juniors don’t miss the opportunity to pick up scholarship applications and pre-apply for a paid summer internship for 2011 of which eligibility requires that you register at one of the three education fairs.
